FORMA

Forma screen redefines the classic paravent, transforming it from a mere partition into a sculptural centerpiece that embodies both elegance and spatial artistry.

It's accordion-like structure creates alcoves and pedestal-like niches, designed to shelter and enhance the presence of cherished sculptures or objects, both through the composition itself and the reflective qualities of the steel.

Designed by Anthony Guerrée and inspired by Carl Andre's "Still Blue Range" (1989), Forma embraces Carl Andre's minimalist philosophy, presenting a composition where presence and absence, solidity and openness are orchestrated with a refined sense of balance.

THE DESIGNER

Anthony Guerrée is a French designer, born in Normandy in 1987. He lives and works in Paris. As a designer, he has always worked closely with artisans, exploring high-quality craftsmanships and the history of French decorative arts.

Anthony Guerrée was educated at the École Boulle in Paris. Fascinated by the interior designers of the '30s, Anthony joined Studio Andrée Putman, in 2010, where he was able to work with the best 'makers' in the world in shaping world-class interiors. In 2015, Anthony went to work for designer Christophe Delcourt, assisting him in designing his Delcourt Collection furniture, as well as contributing to Christophe's collaborations with French and international brands.

In 2020, Anthony Guerrée ventured out on his own and developed a unique signature, inspired by his travels, personal interactions and literary encounters.
